International rescue effort saves trapped soccer team

STAFF SGT. JESSICA H. SMITH | 18TH WING PUBLIC AFFAIRS

KADENA AIR BASE, Japan (AFNS) -- Twelve boys ranging from age 11 to 16, along with their soccer coach, found themselves stranded in a cave in Thailand's Chiang Rai province, June 23, 2018. After 17 days entrapment, an international rescue team successfully ended a nearly 3-week operation.

At the request of the Royal Thai government, members of the 320th Special Tactics Squadron from the 353rd Special Operations Group, and members of the 31st Rescue Squadron from the 18th Wing at Kadena Air Base, Japan were ready to go.

Upon arrival, members were divided into teams to help the mission. Some assessed possible rescue operations at the mouth of the cave while others created helicopter landing zones by clearing areas of the surrounding jungle and planned for scuba tank cache locations.

With 24-hour operations and 16 to 18 hour shifts, the international rescue team worked around the clock to overcome the many challenges they faced.

"It's important for people to understand that this kind of rescue had never been attempted by anyone in the world," said Tech. Sgt. Adam Lopez, 31st RQS pararescueman. "It was the most technically difficult mission any of us have ever been involved with."

Confined space diving is considered to be extremely hazardous for even the most highly trained and competent divers, making it a high-risk mission for the rescuers and those trapped in the cave, he explained.

Unsure of where the children were within the cave, and whether they were even alive, the team needed to operate with a problem-solving mindset and communicate with all others in the mission – regardless of the inevitable communication barriers – to determine what efforts could be provided and by who.

"It was important for all the different supporting players to come together because everyone brought a different expertise to the table – no single entity had all the skills or answers to be able to complete the rescue," said Tech. Sgt. Michael Smith, 31st RQS pararescueman. "We all had something to offer and we needed to be united to complete the mission."

At the request of the Royal Thai government, USINDOPACOM sent a search and rescue team from Okinawa, Japan to assist Thai rescue authorities in locating 12 youth football players and their coach.

As soon as the location of the children was determined, safety and risk mitigation became a priority for the rescue team and all others involved, to ensure the best possible outcome, explained

Thunderbirds announce 2019 officer selections

UNITED STATES AIR DEMONSTRATION SQUADRON

NELLIS AIR FORCE BASE, Nev. -- The commander of Air

Combat Command, Gen. Mike Holmes, has officially selected the officers who will be joining the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds for the 2019 demonstration season.

Lt. Col. John Caldwell, 28th Test and Evaluation Squadron commander, Eglin Air Force Base, Florida, will become Thunderbird No. 1, the squadron's commander/leader. As the two-fold duty title implies, his responsibilities will include commanding a force of more than 120 enlisted personnel and 11 commissioned officers assigned to the Thunderbirds, along with leading all demonstration flights. Caldwell will replace Lt. Col. Kevin Walsh.

Capt. Michael Brewer, 334th Fighter Squadron, Seymour Johnson AFB, North Carolina, has been selected as Thunderbird No. 3, the team's right wing pilot. He will fly as close as 3 feet from the No. 1 jet during flight formations, demonstrating the teamwork and precision of America's Air Force. Brewer will replace Maj. Nate Hofmann.

Maj. Whit Collins, the current lead solo pilot, will transition to the slot pilot position as Thunderbird No. 4 in 2019. Like Brewer, Collins will also fly in close formation with the other demonstration pilots, just aft of the No. 1 aircraft and between the two wingmen. Collins will replace Maj. Nick Krajicek.

Capt. Michelle Curran, 355th Fighter Squadron, Naval Air Station Joint Reserve Base Fort Worth, Texas, has been chosen as Thunderbird No. 6, the team's opposing solo pilot. The solo pilots perform maneuvers showcasing the maximum capabilities of the F-16 aircraft. Maj. Matt Kimmel, the current opposing solo pilot, will transition to the lead solo position in 2019.

Maj. Jason Markzon, 35th Maintenance Operations Flight commander and F-16 Fighting Falcon pilot assigned to the 13th Fighter Squadron, Misawa Air Base, Japan, will become Thunderbird No. 8, the team's advance pilot and narrator. His duties will include advancing to show sites ahead of the team, coordinating logistical details with the local show organizers and narrating to the crowd during performances. Markzon will replace Maj. Branden Felker.

Lt. Col. (Dr.) Noel Colls, a flight surgeon and family practice resident assigned to the 60th Medical Operations Squadron, Travis AFB, California, will become Thunderbird No. 9, the team's flight surgeon. He will provide medical care for more than 130 squadron members and keep the team in optimal health. Colls will replace Maj. (Dr.) William Goncharow.

"This year's exceptional officer applicant pool reflects the incredible degree of talent, motivation and diversity that exists throughout our Air Force. It was a tough selection process, but ultimately these officers rose to the top." Walsh said. "The Thunderbirds are proud to welcome these leaders aboard as they assume responsibility for showcasing the pride, precision and professionalism of more than 660,000 total force Airmen serving around the world."

The 12 officer positions on the team are two-year tours of duty. By design, the position openings are staggered, allowing the squadron to maintain continuity of experience and leadership. In 2020, Thunderbird Nos. 2, 4, 6, 7, 10 and 12 will be replaced.

Summer Orzo Pasta Salad

INGREDIENTS:

- FOR THE SALAD::
 8 ounces orzo pasta {try whole wheat for a healthier version}, cooked according to package
 1/2 english cucumber, diced
 1/2 cup crumbled feta cheese
 1 - 15-ounce can garbanzo beans {chickpeas}, drained and rinsed
 2 cups cherry tomatoes, halved
 1/2 small red onion, chopped {about 2/3 cup}
- 1/2 cup fresh basil leaves, chopped
 1/4 cup fresh mint leaves, chopped
 1/4 cup fresh parsley, chopped
- FOR THE RED WINE VINAI-GRETTE DRESSING::
 1/3 cup red wine vinegar
 1 lemons, juiced
 1 teaspoon honey
 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1/8 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
 2/3 cup extra-virgin olive oil

INSTRUCTIONS:

Cook the orzo according to the package. Let cool completely or run under cold water until cooled. In large mixing bowl combine the cucumber, feta cheese, garbanzo beans, tomatoes, red onion and gently stir to combine. In a mason jar or salad dressing container whisk together the red wine vinegar, lemon juice, honey, salt, pepper and extra virgin oil. Add the orzo pasta to the vegetables and mix well. Pour half of the dressing over the salad and toss. Sprinkle the basil, mint and parsley over the salad and gently toss. If serving immediately add more dressing if you feel like the salad needs it. Otherwise refrigerate the remaining half of the dressing and the salad. When ready to serve add the remaining dressing and toss. NOTES I always start with half of the dressing and see how the salad tastes. You can always add more dressing as needed. Feel free to mix up the vegetables or add additional ones like bell peppers and zucchini. I have also added grilled chicken to this salad which works well and have subbed white beans for the chickpeas and liked that too.

Exchange Giving Away Exclusive Military Brat Patch, Free Treats at Back-to-School Events Worldwide

ARMY & AIR FORCE EXCHANGE SERVICE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

DALLAS — To celebrate the start of a new school year, the Army & Air Force Exchange Service is saluting military children for their service and sacrifice with giveaways and in-store events July 28.

The Exchange is partnering with Vanguard on a military brat patch, available for free while supplies last at select main stores worldwide. Stripes Alterations coupons, valued up to $5, will allow kids to have the patch sewn on a personal item. The patch honors the selfless spirit of Warfighters' children.

"A new school year is a perfect time to recognize the important role of military children," said Air Force Chief Master Sgt. Luis Reyes, Exchange senior enlisted advisor. "The Exchange wants to help kids see their value as they get ready to go back to school, and these patches help accomplish that."

Kids who wear or bring their brat patch to participating Exchange restaurants July 28 will receive a free treat as well. Treats vary by location and may come in the form of a side, fountain drink, dessert or other item. Offer is valid July 28 only.

Also that day, students—and their parents, too— can put their best foot forward in the new school year with style tips, skincare advice and more at the Look Cool for School beauty event in select main stores. Book bags will be given away (available in store only) with skincare, fragrance or cosmetic purchases of $30 or more. Matching of local sales tax discounts in states that offer tax-free weekends on school supplies, clothing and footwear. (For more information, official dates and included items, shoppers can check their state's tax website.)

"Sending kids back to class doesn't have to break the bank," Reyes said.

Staff Sgt. Jamie Brisbin, 31st RQS pararescueman.

Having found the children, the international rescue team began the real prep work for fulfilling the rescue plan. However, because of the complexity of the effort, the team feared the loss of some of the children, unsure if everyone would survive.

“Due to the technical difficulty of this mission, we didn’t expect all of the children to survive the rescue,” Lopez said. “However, we had the right people and equipment in place, and we knew that due to the low oxygen levels in the cave, as well as the worsening weather that was sure to further flood the cave, we had a small window of time to execute a rescue. The risk mitigation that went into planning this rescue was done with such a high level of attention to detail that we knew the plan was solid.”

Kadena AB Airmen took on the role of executing logistics dives to pre-position scuba tanks that would later be used for divers to swap used tanks for full tanks, explained Master Sgt. Christopher Uriarte, 31st RQS pararescueman. The team placed over 200 strategically throughout the cave on the first day.

Another role performed by members of Kadena AB involved carrying the children from chamber to chamber and diving with them from the third chamber to the second chamber where they were handed off to Australian team members before being further guided by Thai members.

“It was an amazing experience to have so many people, regardless of nationality or culture, working together towards a common goal,” said Stephen Drakes, 31st RQS SERE specialist. “Obviously communication is the immediate barrier to any multi-national effort, and that was true during this rescue as well – we were able to overcome communication barriers by building solid relationships with the folks we worked with day-in and day-out. By the time we were pulling the kids out of the cave, we were operating as a cohesive team.”

While almost everyone involved had a personal sense of pride in their contribution to the success of the life-saving mission, many also found professional value in it.

“What I took away from this mission was gratitude toward our leadership; because this mission was so high risk, I expected that our involvement – specifically the confined space diving – would be restricted,” Uriarte said, “But we kept our leadership up to speed on our decision-making process and how we planned to mitigate risks, and they fully supported our decisions on how to execute at the tactical level.”

Overcoming so many difficulties and barriers may have been an accomplishment experienced only by those directly involved, but as news of the last child being rescued spread throughout the media – making it a 100 percent successful rescue mission – the world sighed in relief too.
