A U-2 Dragon Lady pilot, assigned to the 9th Reconnaissance Wing, pilots the high-altitude reconnaissance platform at approximately 70,000 feet above an undisclosed location. The U-2 is a high-altitude, near space reconnaissance aircraft and delivers critical imagery which enables decision makers at all levels the visual capabilities to execute informed decisions in any phase of conflict.

A Matter of FACT: Growing the U-2 pilot selection process with first-ever program

1ST LT. BRITTANY CURRY | 9TH RECONNAISSANCE WING PUBLIC AFFAIRS

BEALE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AFNS) --

For the first time, the 9th Reconnaissance Wing will open its aperture for recruiting Air Force pilots into the U-2 Dragon Lady through an experimental program beginning in the fall of 2018.

Through the newly established U-2 First Assignment Companion Trainer, or FACT, program, the 9th RW's 1st Reconnaissance Squadron will broaden its scope of pilots eligible to fly the U-2 by allowing Air Force student pilots in Undergraduate Pilot Training the opportunity to enter a direct pipeline to flying the U-2.

"Our focus is modernizing and sustaining the U-2 well into the future to meet the needs of our nation at the speed of relevance," said Col. Andy Clark, 9th RW commander. "This new program is an initiative that delivers a new reconnaissance career path for young, highly qualified aviators eager to shape the next generation of (reconnaissance) warfighting capabilities."

The FACT pipeline Every undergraduate pilot training student from Air Education and Training Command's flying training locations, during the designated assignment window, is eligible for the FACT program.

tUPT students will now have the opportunity to select the U-2 airframe on their dream sheets just like any other airframe.

The first FACT selectee is planned for the fall 2018 UPT assignment cycle and the next selection will happen about six months later.

After selection, the FACT pilot attends the T-38 Pilot Instructor Training Course at Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph, Texas, before a permanent change in station to Beale Air Force Base, Calif.

For the next two years, the selectee will serve as a T-38

Talon instructor pilot for the U-2 Companion Trainer Program.

"Taking on the task of developing a small portion of our future leaders from the onset of his or her aviation career is something we're extremely excited about," said Lt. Col. Carl Maymi, 1st RS commander. "U-2 FACT pilots will have an opportunity to learn from highly qualified and experienced pilots while in turn teaching them to fly T-38s in Northern California. I expect rapid maturation as an aviator and officer for all that get this unique opportunity."

After the selectee gains an appropriate amount of experience as an instructor pilot, they will perform the standard two-week U-2 interview process, and if hired, begin Basic Qualification Training.

After the first two UPT students are selected and enter the program, the overall direction of the FACT assignment process will be assessed to determine the sustainability of this experimental pilot pipeline.

Broadening candidate diversity

Due to the uniquely difficult reconnaissance mission of the U-2, as well as its challenging flying characteristics, U-2 pilots are competitively selected from a pool of highly qualified and experienced aviators from airframes across the Department of Defense inventory.

The selection process includes a two-week interview where candidates' self-confidence, professionalism and airmanship are evaluated on the ground and in the air while flying three TU-2 sorties.

Traditionally, a U-2 pilot will spend a minimum of six years gaining experience outside of the U-2's reconnaissance mission before submitting an application.

As modernization efforts continue for the U-2 airframe and its mission sets, pilot acquisition and development efforts are also changing to help advance the next generation of reconnaissance warfighters. The FACT program will advance the next generation through accelerating pilots directly from the UPT programs into the reconnaissance community, mitigating the six years of minimum experience that current U-2 pilots have obtained.

"The well-established path to the U-2 has proven effective for over 60 years," Maymi, said. "However, we need access to young, talented officers earlier in their careers. I believe we can do this while still maintaining the integrity of our selection process through the U-2 FACT program."

Developing the legacy for the future

FACT aims to place future U-2 warfighters in line with the Brothers carry on family legacy in aviation

SENIOR AIRMAN JUSTIN CLAYVON | 94TH AIRLIFT WING PUBLIC AFFAIRS

DOBBINS AIR RESERVE BASE, Ga. (AFNS) --

Decades ago, a father took his two young sons to the aviation museum at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. Although the father might have known it would be a great vacation for his family, he had no way of knowing the impact the trip would have on his sons' future decision to join the Air Force.

"I remember that one of the airplanes we stopped at, our dad was like, 'look it's a Hercules,'" said Staff Sgt. Jeremy Putnam, a 94th Maintenance Squadron jet engine mechanic here. "We were like that's really cool and they let us in and we climbed around in it. I just remember it being so big! And then, lo and behold, later I'm an engine guy that works on them. We've always been around aircraft and drawn to it."

Jeremy's older brother, Joel Putnam, is a 94th Aircraft Maintenance Squadron crew chief at Dobbins Air Reserve Base. The Putnam brothers come from a family legacy of military aviators.

"Our dad was in the U.S. Army air cavalry and he worked on airplanes," said Jeremy. "That was a big inspiration for both of us to work on airplanes. We come from a long line of military aviators. Our grandfather on our dad's side was in the Air Force. On our mom's side, our grandfather was a helicopter crew chief in the Marines and then Army."

The brothers' camaraderie growing up continued into their adult lives as they worked in the military. Joel and Jeremy deployed to Qatar and recently participated in Exercise Swift Response together. Exercise Swift Response is an annual U.S. Army European multinational exercise featuring high-readiness airborne forces from nine nations.

The brothers spoke about their unique experience of partnering with each other in real world scenarios of exercises and missions.

"We were doing some reconfigurations for the Swift Response exercise, changing from one layout in the cargo department to another," said Joel. "We were setting up seats for the Army paratroopers to jump out, and I look up and Jeremy is there helping me—tag teaming."

"Yeah, I didn't have anything engine related, so I jumped on the airplane to help him set up for the configuration," Jeremy added.

Joel highlighted that between the two brothers they can take care of a whole plane. "We can go on TDY together and he can do the engine work and I can do the crew chief stuff," said Joel.

"We can run the plane, we can get it serviced up, gassed and go, or handle any major issues," added

Jeremy.

Joel spoke about completing inspections at Dobbins ARB. When a plane comes in and is jacked up, as Jeremy works on the motor, Joel will be over in the flaps.

Jeremy works as an Air Reserve technician full time at Dobbins ARB. Joel serves as a traditional reservist, frequently working on orders at Dobbins ARB.

The bond between the brothers carries into their civilian life as well. The airmen live as roommates and even produce electronic music and disc jockey together. But their favorite experience is working together in the military.

"Going out and doing real world missions together is really cool," Jeremy said. "When we grew up playing in the backyard together trying to accomplish something, or helping dad work on the cars, it was together, and now being on a much bigger scale, in a bigger family in the Air Force, still being and working together towards the mission is awesome."

Chicken Broccoli & Sweet Potato SHEET PAN DINNER

"Easy dinners like so were made for busy weeknight meals! This Chicken, Broccoli and Sweet Potato Sheet Pan Dinner will quickly become a new fall fav! It's so easy to make, clean up is a breeze and your whole family will love it! And let me just add, serving it with a glass of good apple cider is a must!" (Cooking Classy)

INGREDIENTS:

- 20 oz sweet potatoes peeled and diced into 3/4-inch cubes (2 medium, about 3 cups)
- 4 Tbsp olive oil, divided
- 1 1/2 lbs boneless skinless chicken breasts, diced into pieces (about 1 1/4-inches, keep them close to the same size so they all cook even)
- 4 cups small broccoli florets
- 1/2 of a medium red onion, diced into chunks
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 3/4 tsp of each dried thyme, sage, parsley and rosemary
- 1/8 tsp nutmeg
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- 1/2 cup pecans, whole or roughly chopped
- 1/3 cup dried cranberries

INSTRUCTIONS:

- 1) Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place sweet potatoes in a mound on a rimmed 18 by 13-inch baking sheet, pour 1 Tbsp over top and toss to evenly coat. Spread into an even layer and roast in preheated oven for 15 minutes (meanwhile chop and prep remaining ingredients).
- 2) Remove sweet potatoes from oven, add chicken pieces, broccoli florets, and red onion around sweet potatoes (just placing everything randomly). Sprinkle with garlic and drizzle everything with remaining 3 Tbsp olive oil (focusing mostly on the broccoli so it doesn't dry) and toss with a spatula to evenly coat. Sprinkle evenly with thyme, sage, parsley, rosemary and nutmeg and about 1 tsp salt and 1/2 tsp pepper. Toss again to evenly coat with seasonings and spread out evenly (try not to overlap chicken pieces). Return to oven and roast about 16 - 20 minutes longer, tossing once halfway through, until chicken registers 165 degrees in center. Toss in pecans and cranberries. Serve immediately (preferably with a glass full of apple cider, it's the perfect pairing and completes this fall meal).

rest of the combat Air Force's career development timelines to include potential avenues of professional military education and leadership roles. One example would include an opportunity to attend the new reconnaissance weapons instructors course, also known as reconnaissance WIC, which was recently approved to begin the process to be established as first-ever reconnaissance-focused WIC at the U.S. Air Force Weapons School at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada.

"This program offers FACT-selected pilots enhanced developmental experience and prepares them for diverse leadership opportunities, including squadron and senior leadership roles within the reconnaissance community," Clark said.

The FACT program highlights only one of the many ways the Airmen at Beale AFB work to innovate for the future.

"Beale (AFB) Airmen are the beating heart of reconnaissance; they are always looking for innovative ways to keep Recce Town flexible, adaptable, and absolutely ready to defend our nation and its allies," Clark said. "(Senior leaders) tasked Airmen to bring the future faster and maximize our lethality—to maintain our tactical and strategic edge over our adversaries. This program

*No baiting allowed on Fish & Wildlife Nat'l. Wildlife Refuges & Waterfowl Production Areas & Game & Fish Dept. Wildlife Mgmt. Areas.

*Be careful of upland species identification with immature pheasants yet.

Fishing:

Lake Sakakawea elevation, Oct. 9: 1,843.17 feet above mean sea level (MSL); 29,000 cubic feet per second (CFS) Garrison Dam average daily releases.

Devils Lake elevation: 1,448.40 feet above mean sea level (MSL). Stump Lake elevation: 1,448.33 MSL.

*N.D. Game & Fish Dept. game wardens: Lake Metigoshe quiet. No reports from Lake Darling, Devils Lake, or other area lakes. Some walleye success on Lake Sakakawea with the Missouri River also producing activity.

*Devils Lake, Ed's Bait Shop, Devils Lake: Continued good small walleye success off the bridges with a few more larger ones mixed in.

*Devils Lake, Woodland Resort, Devils Lake: Lots of small walleye yet working deeper rock piles, towers, or bridges. Try shallower for larger fish.

*Lake Darling, Karma C-Store, Ruthville: Fair to good walleye success around the Grano area on Lake Darling.

*Lake Darling, Upper Souris Nat'l. Wildlife Refuge, Foxholm: The lake and river are now closed to boat fishing.

*Lake Metigoshe, Four Seasons, Bottineau: Limited activity but those going out are finding a few walleye.

*Lake Metigoshe, Lake Metigoshe State Park, Bottineau: Anglers finding some nice-sized pike along with nice walleye numbers. The park's fall colors are still lingering but could disappear soon.

*Lake Sakakawea/Lake Audubon, Cenex Bait & Tackle, Garrison: Some walleye success on the east end of Lake Sakakawea, including around 7 Sisters and around Mallard Island. Light angler numbers, though. Try jigging Raps or jigs and minnows, sitting on top of the fish. Missouri River fair for walleye with good catfish success in the chutes and south.

*Lake Sakakawea/Lake Audubon, 6-Mile Bait & Tackle, Garrison: Fair walleye success around Douglas Bay on Lake Sakakawea, working east to the U. S. Highway 83 embankment. Try jigging Raps in 30 to 50 feet. Try top-water techniques along the south shore on the east end for salmon as they move into shallow water.

*Lake Sakakawea, Scenic 23, New Town: Continued walleye activity in the Van Hook Arm. Try around 10 feet.

*Lake Sakakawea/northwest N.D. lakes, Scenic Sports, Williston: Missouri River portion around Williston producing a few walleye. Some walleye success working west of Lewis & Clark State Park on Lake Sakakawea, as well.

*Lonetree WMA area lakes, Harvey: No new reports.

*North-central/central N.D. lakes, Towner Hdwe. Hank, Towner: No activity on area lakes.

Hunting:

*Pheasants: Pockets of birds in northwest N.D. with overall spotty success. Some success in the sandhill region around Towner. Fair pheasant numbers around parts of Lake Sakakawea but lots of young birds making identification extremely difficult.

*Waterfowl: Not much waterfowl movement but a few flocks of snow geese moving in along the north-central and northeastern tier. Somewhat slow duck activity around Devils Lake with many local birds moving out after last week's cold and snow. Not much influx in yet, either, in that region. Decent duck and Canada goose numbers around north-central N.D. along the Canadian border with a few cranes still lingering. There was a snow line around Highway 200 earlier in the week with better duck numbers south of the line. A few scattered reports of occasional small snow goose flocks around Lake Audubon and east end of Lake Sakakawea but not many lesser Canada geese yet. A few lessers moving into the midsection region, though.

*Upper Souris NWR: Refuge currently open for archery deer and moose (hunters must have a Unit M10 moose license). Only refuge Unit 1 is open for upland bird hunting.

AFIMSC completes historic fiscal year closeout

ED SHANNON | AIR FORCE INSTALLATION AND MISSION SUPPORT CENTER

JOINT BASE SAN ANTONIO-LACKLAND, Texas (AFNS) -- The Air Force executed a record $6.9 billion in the installation and mission support portfolio during fiscal 2018, nearly $1 billion more than last year, and culminating in a successful, historic fiscal year close out.

"We have the second largest (Operations and Maintenance) account in the Air Force," said Col. Anthony Smith, Air Force Installation and Mission Support Center budget director. "To have a mature process and ability to execute such a large amount of funding is mighty impressive for such a young organization."

Managed by AFIMSC, financial analysts enterprise-wide teamed to fulfill an overarching strategy to place the next available dollar against the next most important requirement which highlighted AFIMSC's close out success, said Monica Anders, director of the AFIMSC Resources Directorate.

"Our end of year close-out efforts are the culmination of strong processes in place and strategy we implemented from the first day of the fiscal year," she said. "These efforts were strengthened over the year by our new 2.0 structure which truly starts integrating teams and processes to provide a single integrated look across the enterprise. These integrated teams include many, many people, such as our O&M, Construction Tasking Order, and environmental analysts along with AFIMSC detachment, primary subordinate unit, and installation budget experts."

End of year closeout built on momentum gained from budget execution performance in July when the Air Force exceeded a goal to obligate more than 83 percent of the I&MS portfolio by July 31. Achieving a high execution rate two months before the end of the fiscal year set up the Air Force for a well thought-out and executed end-of-year closeout and a smooth glide path into the next fiscal year, Smith said.

For the second consecutive year, AFIMSC established a war room from its headquarters in San Antonio manned by approximately 30 budget analysts and financial experts during the last two weeks in September. The nerve center increased capabilities to quickly validate requirements. Capitalizing on lessons learned from 2017, AFIMSC tweaked the nerve center with innovative ideas and processes.

"We increased the capacity of the war room with better logistics and improved communication," Smith said.

Officials paired AFIMSC budget analysts with representatives from every Air Force major command and seated them side by side. The analysts communicated with installations by phone, email and live Defense Collaborative Services. AFIMSC issued cell phones for detachment analysts so they could be reached when they were not in the nerve center.

According to Maj. Brian Hoffman, war room officer in charge, the co-location of AFIMSC and detachment analysts allowed for tasks to be accomplished quicker and with twice the expertise and knowledge.

"We took advantage of all parties in the house and tackled challenges more effectively," Hoffman said. "We also improved on strategic communication throughout the war room so that we presented consistent messaging from AFIMSC to the budget shops at each installation."

Capt. Amy Bragg described her first Air Force Installation and Mission Support Center war room experience with budget analysts from around the world as eye-opening.

"Even though we are from different locations worldwide, we worked well together throughout the year and came together the past two weeks in the war room," said Bragg, who begins serving this month as a budget analyst for AFIMSC Detachment 8, Air Combat Command. "I have new appreciation for the work involved particularly with how the detachments work with each other and how AFIMSC leadership works with the detachments."

Capt. Julian Ireland, who turns over Detachment 8 budget analyst duties to Bragg this month and one of half a dozen analysts who were part of the initial war room in 2017, said the nerve center was more organized and equipped better this year. "AFIMSC streamlined the number of updates were required to give which allowed us more time to communicate with our installations," he said. "We pushed installations for excellence, and the great individuals at unit budget offices worked hard to close out accurately and on time."

Approximately 30 budget analysts and financial experts validate end-of-year close out activities from a war room located at AFIMSC headquarters in San Antonio. The nerve center increased the team's capabilities to quickly validate requirements, ensuring the next available dollar was placed against the next most important requirement.
