Higher, further, faster: 'Captain Marvel' embodies the warrior ethos

STAFF SGT. JANNELLE MCRAE | SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

ARLINGTON, Va. (AFNS) -- Less than one percent of the American population will know what it's like to serve in the Air Force. However, major motion pictures give the global audience a glimpse into the service's history of breaking barriers and a taste of its fighting spirit.

To ensure an accurate depiction of military service, filmmakers and actors immersed with Airmen from across the Air Force during the filming of "Captain Marvel," starring Brie Larson as Carol Danvers.

Larson's character is a young Air Force pilot in the late 1980s. After graduating from the U.S. Air Force Academy, she excels in pilot training, flies the F-15 Eagle and moves quickly to the world of test flight. A flight test incident leaves Carol infused with extraordinary powers.

"When I graduated from the Air Force Academy in 1982, there were about 150 women pilots in the United States Air Force, and none of them were fighter pilots because it was actually against the law for women to fly fighters," said Secretary of the Air Force Heather Wilson during the showcase of "Captain Marvel" at the Smithsonian National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C., March 7. "Today, we have 850 women flying for the United States Air Force and the defense of this country, and about 80 of them are fighter pilots.

"I've talked to Airmen who have helped with the technical assistance on this film and they were pleased that the co-directors had really captured what it means to be an American Airman ... that ethos of going higher, further, faster," she added.

Airmen partnered with Marvel Entertainment through the Air Force Public Affairs Entertainment Liaison office, which offered direct access to resources including personnel, aircraft and equipment, technical assistance and military advice and locations. This ensured the portrayal of the Airmen and missions was plausible and realistic.

"Our mission is to project and protect the image of the U.S. Air Force through entertainment media," said Lt. Col. Nathan Broshear, Air Force Entertainment Liaison Office director. "Major motion pictures, like 'Captain Marvel,' provide an incredible platform to educate and inform the American public about the people, culture and heritage of the U.S. Air Force ... inspiring the next generation of Airmen."

Ryan Fleck, who co-directed the movie with Anna Boden, expressed his appreciation for every Airman's professionalism and respect.

"Everyone we met in the Air Force was so selfless and giving to our process, and I was really impressed," he said. "We couldn't necessarily figure out what an intergalactic space warrior was up to, but we could come to the Air Force and see what it was like to be a pilot. Every detail, every phase of the process was huge, not only for us in the writing, but for Brie as well when she is playing the character ... from how she held her helmet to how she walks."

Additionally, materials collected from Airman Magazine Archives and consultations with Air Force Materiel Command, Edwards Air Force Base, California, and U.S. Air Force Academy historians resulted in period-correct 80s and 90s hardware, uniforms and details.

The Air Force's involvement also impacted character development and storylines. In December 2017, Larson, Boden, Fleck and producer Jonathan Schwartz visited Nellis AFB, Nevada, and spent one-on-one time with Brig. Gen. Jeannie Leavitt, Air Force Recruiting Service Commander and the Air Force's first female fighter pilot.

"We put Brie Larson in the backseat of an F-16 (Fighting Falcon) so she could experience being in a high performance fighter aircraft firsthand. I think that helped her understand what it was like," said Leavitt. "I appreciated the fact that they wanted to get the characters to be an accurate portrayal of a female fighter pilot in the Air Force."

Continuing cooperation between the Air Force and Hollywood has resulted in support of hundreds of films and television programs to include "Sully," "Bridge of Spies," "Man of Steel," "Godzilla," "Lone Survivor" and multiple "Transformers" and "Iron Man" films.

"It's important to know these partnerships are conducted at no cost to the taxpayer—studios reimburse bases for any expenses incurred as a part of the military unit's participation in selected projects—but our investment of time and energy provides an incredible return on investment for all involved," Broshear said. "Airmen are able to be a part of cinematic history, ensuring audiences see an accurate portrayal of lives dedicated to excellence, integrity and service before self."

SECAF announces resignation

SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

ARLINGTON, Va. (AFNS) -- Upon a favorable final vote by the regents, Secretary of the Air Force Heather Wilson announced her resignation March 8, after serving in her position as the service's top civilian since May 2017, to accept the role as president of the University of Texas at El Paso.

Wilson will continue to serve as the 24th Secretary of the Air Force until May 2019.

"It has been a privilege to serve our Airmen over the past two years," said Wilson in her letter of resignation to the President of the United States. "I am proud of the progress we have made to restore our nation's defense."

During her service, Wilson has been responsible for the affairs of the Department of the Air Force, including organizing, training and equipping and providing for the welfare of all active-duty, Guard, Reserve and civilian forces as well as their families.

Moreover, she has been leading the way in improving the lethality and readiness of the Air Force. What was once 660,000 total force in 2017 is now 685,000 total force today – a 15 percent increase.

She oversees the Air Force's annual budget of more than $138 billion and directs strategy and policy development, risk management, weapons acquisition, technology investments and human resource management across a global enterprise.

"We hit the lottery with Secretary Wilson," said Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. David L. Goldfein. "Under her leadership, we became a better U.S. Air Force and our Airmen will continue rowing hard, becoming even faster, smarter. As she takes her talent and leadership to my home state of Texas, I wish her the very best."

Prior to assuming the secretary of the Air Force position, Wilson was president of the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology, a member of the U.S. House of Representatives, a member of the National Security Council staff and also served in the private sector.

"My greatest appreciation and thanks to Secretary Wilson for her premier leadership of the world's greatest Airmen and Air Force," said Under Secretary of the Air Force Matthew P. Donovan. "We wish her the best at the University of Texas El Paso."

Inaugural Air Force Pitch Day: New contracts, new partners

SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

NEW YORK (AFNS) -- The Air Force awarded 51 companies contracts with a total initial value of $8.75 million in a matter of minutes at the Inaugural Air Force Pitch Day event held March 6-7, in New York City. Air Force Pitch Day is modeled after commercial investment pitch competitions to deliver a faster, smarter approach to compete for ideas in the accelerating technology ecosystem. The process is a major departure from the lengthy contractual processes typically expected of the military. It focuses on rapidly awarding Phase I Small Business Innovation Research, or SBIR, contracts to companies based on a simpler streamlined evaluation of white papers and in-person presentations. Air Force Vice Chief of Staff Gen. Stephen W. Wilson emphasized that lowering barriers to access and empowering people – whether small businesses, industry, research labs or academia – allows the Air Force to deliver speed of capability to the battlefield.

Air Force Vice Chief of Staff Gen. Stephen W. Wilson speaks to a crowd of small businesses, venture capitalists and Airmen during the inaugural Air Force Pitch Day in New York, March 7, 2019. Air Force Pitch Day is designed as a fast-track program to put companies on one-page contracts and same-day awards with the swipe of a government credit card. The Air Force is partnering with small businesses to help further national security in air, space and cyberspace.

“Events such as Pitch Day allow us to connect small businesses to the operator, then to a real problem and bring those two together to build a partnership,” Wilson said. Air Force contracting officials reviewed 417 submissions received during the 30-day application period and then invited 59 businesses to pitch their proposals in person March 6.

Of those 59 businesses, 51 received an initial award of up to $158,000 with initial payment within minutes of their presentations.

The average amount of time to award contracts and pay companies via government credit card following a successful pitch at Air Force Pitch Day was 15 minutes. The fastest award occurred in only three minutes. Previously, the fastest award of a contract of this type was approximately 90 days – a period of time many small businesses and startups cannot survive through without funding.

Developing a same-day payment method via government credit card is key to helping businesses see the Air Force as a preferred partner to growth according to Dr. Will Roper, assistant secretary of the Air Force for acquisition, technology and logistics.

“The fact that these small businesses don’t have to go get loans, or bridges, waiting for that 120 days to get on contract is a big deal. It means they can focus immediately on working with us, understanding our users, delivering for the warfighter,” Roper said. “For those who think using a credit card is a gimmick, they need to come down and work with companies for whom money matters. And for the size companies we saw this week, that paycheck today means they are now focused on our mission and not making payroll.”

More than 500 attendees from government, industry, academia, venture capital and investment communities also participated in Air Force Pitch Day March 7, which served as an open event that delivered a broader platform for invited companies to pitch to a larger community than just the Air Force.

“We are at the beginning of a big culture shift in the government. We woke up and said we are not the only funder or inventor of new technology anymore ... we are a partner with those who do,” Roper said.

Roper explained that the Air Force community prepared for Pitch Day the week prior through a series of rapid contracting sprints, awarding 122 Phase I SBIR contracts totaling $6 million. They also awarded 69 Phase II SBIR contracts totaling $60 million, 11 of which featured government matching contributions and five contracts with private matching.

During the entire week, including Pitch Day, the Air Force awarded 242 SBIR contracts valued at $75 million.

Roper said the next challenge for the Air Force is to organize to do this type of activity at scale.

“We have to do this across the country, across all places that do Air Force acquisition,” Roper said. “Now that we’ve wrung all the lessons out of the process, we’re ready to box it up as a tool that can be executed by the work force out in the field.”

with mango avocado salsa

Recipe courtesy of: www.chelseasmessyapron.com/cilantro-lime-chicken/

INGREDIENTS:

Chicken Marinade

- 1 and 1/2 pounds boneless skinless chicken breasts
- 3/4 cup + 1 tablespoon freshly squeezed orange juice, separated
- 1/2 cup + 1 teaspoon olive oil, separated
- 1/3 cup + 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lime juice, separated
- 1 and 1/2 teaspoons lime zest, separated
- 1 tablespoon honey
- 1 teaspoon + 1/4 teaspoon cumin, separated

- 2 and 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped cilantro, separated

Mango Avocado Salsa

- 1 ripe mango
 - 1 ripe avocado
 - 1/4 cup finely diced red onion
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped red pepper
 - 1 tablespoon finely chopped jalapeno, optional
 - Fine sea salt and freshly cracked pepper
- Optional: cilantro-lime rice or quinoa (see recipe notes)*

INSTRUCTIONS:

Whisk together all of the marinade ingredients: 3/4 cup orange juice, olive oil, 1/3 cup lime juice, 1 teaspoon lime zest, honey, 1 teaspoon cumin, soy sauce, garlic, and 1/4 cup cilantro in a medium-sized bowl. Add salt and pepper to taste (I use about 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper, but add to personal preference and reduce depending on sodium in soy sauce). Remove about 1/2 cup (put in an airtight container in the fridge for later) and pour the rest into a large sealable bag.

Trim the chicken of fat and pound the breasts to even thickness or slice in half to get evenly sized breasts and place in the bag with marinade. Place in the fridge for at least 2 hours making sure to flip the bag halfway through the time it is in the fridge. I recommend marinating for 6-8 hours.

Lightly oil the grill grate and then place the marinated chicken (discard marinade in bag) on the grill. Cook for 10-12 minutes turning as needed (depending on the size of your pieces) or until chicken juices run clear and internal temperature is at 165 degrees F. As you flip and cook the chicken, brush it generously with the reserved 1/2 cup marinade occasionally.

Salsa: For the salsa, take the remaining 1 tablespoon orange juice, remaining 2 tablespoons lime juice, remaining lime zest, and remaining 1/4 cup cilantro and toss together.

(OPTIONAL: When grilling the chicken, also grill the mango. Brush with oil and grill on one side for about 4-5 minutes at medium-high heat.)

Chop the grilled mango and avocado into small bite-sized pieces. Add to the salsa along with the finely chopped red onion, red pepper, and jalapeno. Season the salsa to taste with pepper, salt, and remaining 1/4 teaspoon cumin. Toss together and add the remaining 1 teaspoon of olive oil if desired.

Serve grilled chicken over a bed of cilantro lime rice or quinoa if desired and add spoonfuls of the salsa to top. Enjoy immediately!

Recipe Notes:

Cilantro Lime Rice/Quinoa:

- 1 cup quinoa or rice and 2 cups chicken stock, chicken broth, or water
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 large lime (2 tablespoons juice and 1 teaspoon zest)
- 1/3 cup finely chopped cilantro
- Salt and pepper, to taste

Bring 2 cups of stock to a boil over medium-high heat. Stir in the butter and rice (or quinoa) and return to a boil. Reduce the heat to low, cover, and simmer until the rice (or quinoa) is cooked through and tender. Stir in the lime juice, lime zest, cilantro, and salt + pepper to taste.

MINOT AIR FORCE BASE, N.D. --

Even though March is Women's History Month, the Airmen at Minot Air Force Base break barriers every day. Team Minot supported equality this month by hosting an all-women's missile alert.

"The all-women's alert is a day where all women in missile career fields come together and pull alert from top to bottom," said 1st Lt. Symantha Fry, 740th Missile Squadron nuclear missiles and operations officer.

For the fourth year in a row, these women led a 24-hour nuclear missile alert in the missile field of North Dakota on March 7, 2019.

Just a few years ago, women in the career field didn't have the capacity to lead an all-female 24-hour alert.

"There are some captains that would tell you that five or six years ago there weren't enough females to pull an all-women's alert and cover all of the missile alert facilities," said 1st Lt. Hannah Andrick, 741st Missile Squadron nuclear missiles and operations officer.

In the past, women were assigned support roles for missile wings. It wasn't until the late 1970s and early 1980s that women were allowed to train as missile crew officers. In honor of this all-female alert, each missileer wore a special patch.

"Each year they make new patches," said Fry. "To signify each of the three intercontinental ballistic missile wings, this year's patch has three superhero logos with Wonder Woman being first."

A new patch representing three female superheroes is displayed on the shoulder of an Airman during the fourth annual all-female alert at Minot Air Force Base, North Dakota, March 7, 2019. The capsule crew Airmen are responsible for safety, security and maintenance of the Minuteman III Intercontinental Ballistic Missile. U.S. AIR FORCE PHOTO | SENIOR AIRMAN DILLON J. AUDIT

Just as the superheroes represented on the patch may be role models, the missileers say they hope to inspire future generations.

"There are a lot of different theories of why getting young females involved in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math career fields are difficult, but hopefully seeing positive role models of women in our type of work can give them that positive image they need," said Andrick.

Andrick said, whether or not young females view these women as role models, they are becoming a part of history. "There's a lot of beauty in an all-female crew standing together as a part of history to accomplish the mission for the three ICBM wings," said Andrick.

While the all-women's alert has included bombers, the submarine counterpart has yet to have the sufficient amount of women in the field to pull off an all-female effort.

"I look forward to the future to hopefully have an all-female alert for all three legs of the nuclear triad," said Andrick.

OUTDOOR

PROVIDED BY | PATRICIA STOCKDILL

Dates to Know:

- March 15: Deadline for removing fish houses from all N.D. waters.
 - March 15: Darkhouse spearfish season closes.
 - March 15: Pheasants for the Future banquet, N.D. State Fair All Seasons Arena, Minot, 5 p.m.
 - March 20: First day of spring.
 - March 23: Williston Ducks Unlimited (DU) Gran Williston Hotel, 5:30 p.m.
 - March 27: Elk, moose, and bighorn sheep applications due, (gf.nd.gov).
 - March 27: Minot DU Waterfowl Hunters Party, Sleep Inn, 5:30 p.m.
- Tournaments:
- March 16: Lake Sakakawea.

OUTDOOR NOTES:

*Anglers should consider moving houses off before the March 15 with water coming up around houses and slush freezing, making it difficult to move them.

*Ice is never completely safe. Avoid areas with vegetation, moving water, pressure ridges, and springs. Check conditions as you go along on the ice.

*Remember to keep any fish caught in 20 feet of water and deeper because they don't survive coming up from those depths.

*It's illegal to chase, harasses, or pursue all wildlife – including coyotes – with any motorized vehicle.

Fishing: Lake Sakakawea elevation, March 11: 1,837.06 feet above mean sea level (MSL); 17,900 cubic feet per second (CFS) Garrison Dam average daily releases.

Devils Lake elevation: 1,448.36 feet above mean sea level (MSL).

Stump Lake elevation: 1,448.28 MSL.

*N.D. Game & Fish Dept. game wardens: No new reports with limited access throughout area lakes.

*Devils Lake, Ed's Bait Shop, Devils Lake: Try 30 to 50 feet for perch but work shallow in 5 to 15 feet around structure for walleye. Tracked vehicles still a necessity to get around anywhere on the lake along with increasing numbers of slush pockets. Use caution. Try Black Tiger Bay, East Devils Lake, or East Bay for perch and the Golden Highway for walleye.

*Devils Lake, Woodland Resort, Devils Lake: Anglers still marking fish but the perch bite is finicky. Continued pike success with occasional walleye. Best mobility throughout the lake remains with tracked vehicles.

*Lake Darling, Karma C-Store, Ruthville: A few more anglers out on Lake Darling but limited reports. More activity on Buffalo Lodge Lake.

OUTDOOR NOTES:

*Lake Metigoshe, Lake Metigoshe State Park, Bottineau: Most houses moved off the lake.

*Lake Metigoshe, Four Seasons, Bottineau: Best access remains with tracked vehicles but those going out are finding some bluegill success. Limited walleye reports. Some spearing activity but also limited reports.

*Lake Sakakawea/Lake Audubon, Cenex Bait & Tackle, Garrison: Fair pike success on the east end of Lake Sakakawea. Try back bays, including Steinke and Centennial bays, but access remains difficult. Lake Audubon producing small walleye and perch with overall spotty success. Be careful because it could be easy to break through hard drifts and become stuck. No Missouri River tailrace reports.

*Lake Sakakawea/Lake Audubon, 6-Mile Bait & Tackle, Garrison: Steinke and Centennial bays access available earlier in the week on the east end of Lake Sakakawea. Conditions could change depending on wind conditions. Generally slow success on Lake Sakakawea and Lake Audubon.

*Lake Sakakawea, Scenic 23, New Town: Anglers starting to get around a little more on the Van Hook Arm but it's still best to use tracked vehicles. Spotty walleye success using jigs and minnows. Access still available off the Van Hook ramp.

*Lake Sakakawea/Missouri River, Scott's Bait & Tackle, Pick City: Missouri River tailrace ramp open but not much activity. Look for more boats on the open water of the tailrace with warmer weather.

*Lake Sakakawea/northwest N.D. lakes, Scenic Sports, Williston: Some nice-sized pike showing up on the west end of Lake Sakakawea. Work tip-ups with smelt or herring in 5- to 6-foot shallow water in points going into bays or back bays. Try 20 to 25 feet for walleye around White Earth Bay or Long Creek. Yellowstone and Missouri rivers continue producing walleye with best success the first hour early in the morning and evening. A few sauger mixed in. McGregor Dam fair for decent-sized perch. Trenton Lake continues producing crappie. Look for some bluegill success at Kota-

*Lonetree WMA area lakes, Harvey: Not much activity with access limited to tracked vehicles or vehicles with plows. However, Silver Lake WMA producing perch and walleye but access could be even more difficult now after last weekend's snow.

*North-central/central N.D. lakes, Towner Hdwe. Hank, Towner: Activity remains limited but look for more anglers out as temperatures warm.

*Lake Darling, Upper Souris Nat'l. Wildlife Refuge, Foxholm: Activity remains generally quiet with only a few anglers out, largely due to poor access. N.D. Parks & Recreation Dept. ski trails (conditions can vary):

*Lake Metigoshe State Park, Bottineau: Warmer weather bringing more people out on cross-country and fat tire bike trails, which are in good condition.

*Turtle River, Arvilla: Nice snowfall last weekend brought trails in good to excellent condition. Sledding hill in good condition. Warming house open daily 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Downhill skiing ((conditions can vary): *Big Sky Resort, Big Sky, Mont.: 55- to 102-inch powder, packed powder base. 305 runs, all lifts, 7 Terrain Parks, 10 jumps, and 80 rails open.

*Bottineau Winter Park, Bottineau: 14- to 24-inch base with beginner runs, 7 runs, 7 tubing lanes, with several jumps and rails with 1 box Terrain Park feature open.

*Holiday Mtn. Ski Area, LaRiviere, Manitoba: All runs and lifts open.

*Huff Hills, Mandan: 35- to 40-inch powder, packed powder base. 16 runs and all lifts open, depending on weather. New rhythm section, jumps, and rails in Terrain Park.

*Terry Peak Ski Area, Lead, S.D.: 18- to 24-inch base with variable, machine-groomed base. All runs and lifts open.

Snowmobile N.D. (conditions can vary): *Cattail (Barnes, Cass, Steele, & Traill counties) Trails open with 6- to 10-inch base.

*East-central Valley (Cass & Richland counties): Trails open and in good condition with 11 to 16-inch base. West side of Rural Cass South Trail closed on the west side from Davenport to Casselton.

*Lake Region (Nelson & Ramsey counties): All trails open with 10- to 20-inch base. Good condition.

*Missouri Valley (Emmons & Burleigh counties): 11- to 15-inch base with all trails open and in good condition with areas of large drifts.

*North-central (Benson, McHenry, Pierce, Ramsey, & Towner counties): NC 1, 2, & 3 trails closed but all other trails are open with 6- to 16-inch base. Good condition but snowdrifts along trail.

*Northeast (Cavalier, Pembina, & Walsh counties): Border, Pembina, Neche, and Cavalier trails closed but all others open with 10- to 20-inch base. Many ditch trails full of snow. North Nekoma Trail open from Langdon to Nekoma to Milton.

*Peace Garden (Bottineau & Rolette counties): All trails open and in good condition with 10- to 18-inch base.

*Red River North (Pembina & Walsh counties): All trails open, except Cavalier Trail and in good condition with 10- to 18-inch base.

*Red River South (Grand Forks & Walsh counties): 6- to 12-inch base with all trails open and in good condition.

*Sargent (Richland & Sargent counties): 6- to 10-inch base with all trails open and in good condition. Ditches full.

*Sheyenne Valley (Barnes, Dickey, LaMoure, Ransom, & Stutsman counties): 9- to 11-inch base with fair to good conditions. All trails open except L-3, L-4, M-2, & O-2.

*Sno-Trails (Bottineau, McHenry, Renville, & Ward counties) 10- to 16-inch base with all trails except International Trail open.

*Southern Valley (Richland County): All trails open with 12- to 16-inch base and in good conditions.

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AIR FORCE BASE, Ohio (AFNS) --

The XQ-58A Valkyrie demonstrator, a long-range, high subsonic unmanned air vehicle completed its inaugural flight March 5, 2019, at Yuma Proving Ground, Arizona. The Air Force Research Laboratory partnered with Kratos Unmanned Aerial Systems to develop the XQ-58A.

This joint effort falls within the Air Force Research Laboratory's Low Cost Attritable Aircraft Technology, or LCAAT, portfolio, which has the objective to break the escalating cost trajectory of tactically relevant aircraft. The objectives of the LCAAT initiative include designing and building UAS faster by developing better design tools and maturing and leveraging commercial manufacturing processes to reduce build time and cost.

Developed for runway independence, the aircraft behaved as expected and completed 76 minutes of flight time. The time to first flight took a little over 2.5 years from contract award. The XQ-58A has a total of five planned test flights in two phases with objectives that include evaluating system functionality, aerodynamic performance and launch and recovery systems.

"XQ-58A is the first example of a class of UAV that is defined by low procurement and operating costs while providing game changing combat capability," said Doug Szczublewski, AFRL's XQ-58A Program Manager.
