Goldfein offers optimistic update on Air Force's evolution and future

CHARLES POPE, SECRETARY OF THE AIR FORCE PUBLIC AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON (AFNS) --

Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. David L. Goldfein said during a Jan. 27 appearance at the Center for a New American Security that the service is making significant strides in harnessing and using data for deterrence, decision-making and warfighting while also maintaining dominance in space.

Creating a system that uses data, machine learning and state-of-the-art software to seamlessly link "sensors to shooters" across all domains – air, land, sea, cyber and space – is among Goldfein's highest priorities as the Air Force's highest-ranking military officer.

"First and foremost, we have to connect the joint team," he said in describing what's necessary to prevail in the future fight. "We have to have access to common data so we can operate at speeds that will bring all our capabilities against an adversary."

He also said that the creation of the Space Force as a separate branch of the U.S. military is critical to ensuring national security and to protect commerce and other national interests.

"You've got to dominate space. You will see some significant investment in space capabilities. It won't be just enough to be in the ring and take some punches. At some point, you have to be able to punch back," he said.

In his 50-minute remarks to the influential think tank, Goldfein noted the technical advances and cultural shifts that have moved the concept of tightly connected, joint warfare forward, not only in the Air Force, but across the entire U.S. military establishment.

"Based on where we started," Goldfein said, "I will say we are having discussions on alignment of all services. How we talk about the business of joint warfighting in ways I have not seen in previous years."

The concept, known as Joint All Domain Command and Control or JADC2, has been widely embraced as the critical transformation needed in an era in which Russia and China are emerging in addition to traditional threats.

That support, Goldfein said, has moved from rhetoric to action.

"We're actually building the foundation," he said. "We're not talking about cloud architecture. We actually built one. It's operating and up and running and all the services are connected in. We've actually built unified data libraries that are inclusive of all the services going forward."

"Are we where we need to be? No. This journey never ends," he said.

While complex both technically and culturally, the effort is moving forward in distinct ways, he said. Last month, the Air Force, Navy and Army staged a joint exercise to test new methods and technology for collecting, analyzing and sharing information in real time to identify and defeat a simulated cruise missile. Among other advances, it featured new technology that allowed pilots flying F-35 Lightning IIs and F-22 Raptors to receive data simultaneously along with Army units on the ground, special forces and commanders.

Goldfein also pointed out that the Air Force has created a new "numbered Air Force" dedicated to information warfare.

"You have to do that foundational work, which is digital engineering and data architecture," he said.

Those steps, along with increasing the number of Air Force operational squadrons to 386 from 312, refining logistics to make the Air Force "more agile on our feet," ensuring readiness and powered by the priorities in the 2018 National Defense Strategy are transforming the service.

When asked how to reconcile the needs "of the future over the present," Goldfein was direct.

"If we build what we need to defeat China and Russia, we'll have everything we need to handle Iran," he said. "If we build a force that just handles Iran, we're not going to have what we need to handle a peer power."

Though nascent and still developing, the changes have produced tangible results, Goldfein said. Previously simulated war games against peer competitors yielded distressing results. But the move to legitimately joint operations, continued prowess in space, the simulations suggest "we can actually win for the first time in years."

In order to sustain progress, Goldfein said future budgets must be sufficient and the Space Force must be successful.

On that front, Goldfein said he and Gen. John Raymond, the newly designated chief of Space Operations, are working together closely.

"The objective for Chief Raymond and me is how do we build a foundation of trust and confidence and focused on integrated joint warfare. At the same time, how do we allow the Space Force to develop its own service culture," he said.

"Right now I'm feeling pretty confident that Chief Raymond, Chief Goldfein and (Secretary of the Air Force Barbara Barrett) are on the right path."

Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. David L. Goldfein during an appearance Jan. 27 at the Center for a New American Security, emphasized the importance of a strong presence in space and the need to harness data. Both, he said, are central to ensuring that the Air Force is able to meet and prevail against modern-day threats.

Turkey talk

Patricia Stockdill

For all of the love one glitzy import gets from North Dakota hunters, it just doesn't seem fair that another import just doesn't garner the same amount of affection and attention.

Especially considering it could be argued there are more hunting opportunities and chances to go afield for the less respected import compared to the revered one.

We're talking turkeys here, folks.

For many years, it seemed North Dakota missed the memo that wild turkeys are, indeed an amazing bird. They're not only delicious, they're equally amazing to hunt, especially in the spring.

And upon closer inspection, they're just as stunningly beautiful as the other import.

Yup, it took quite some time for that concept to catch on, although perhaps it's understandable.

Just like North Dakota's Kingpin of Upland Game Birds – the wily rooster ringneck pheasant – wild turkeys aren't native to the state. They haven't been around as long as pheasants, either.

N.D. Game and Fish Department records point to 1910 as the first year the state stocked pheasants when 75 birds housed at a state hatchery near the North Dakota-Canadian border were released.

It took a few more decades, however, before turkeys would find themselves on the North Dakota landscape. Granted, a few unofficial stocking attempts took place in the 1930s and 1940s. However, it was the Izaak Walton League Missouri Slope Chapter that truly claims the honor for the first official release.

Back in 1951, they paid $1.75 each for eggs purchased from Pennsylvania and began working with interested farmers to raise them. By 1957, they had released 1,331 Eastern wild turkeys along the Heart River in southwestern North Dakota and in southeastern areas of the state.

Six hens and two tom Merriam's turkeys were released in far southwestern Slope County of North Dakota in a unique pine forest area. A joint effort of the Izaak Walton League and Game and Fish Department, the birds came in a swap with the State of New Mexico – six wild turkeys for 23 sharp-tailed grouse.

Fast-forward a couple of decades and by 1958 the Game and Fish Department was proposing its first official wild turkey season.

North Dakota's turkey season was traditionally in the fall, though. The concept of a spring season didn't catch on until 1976.

Unfortunately for wild turkey enthusiasts of the time, it was huge flop, in large part because landowners in the open area weren't keen on the idea of a spring turkey season.

Because state law provides North Dakota's private land is open to hunting unless posted closed, many landowners voiced their displeasure about a spring season and posted their land, closing access in many areas.

That put the brakes on a spring turkey season until 1982. By that time, landowner sentiment evolved and hunters found access to hunting turkeys in the spring easier to obtain.

It still took a few years for a spring turkey season to catch on among hunters. But now that it's been almost 40 years, a spring turkey season can be appreciated for what it truly is: A chance to get outdoors and hunt after a long winter. A chance to test one's calling skills against a bird that in most other states is as revered as any big game animal. A chance to relax in the woods and listen to the sounds of wildlife, especially when migrating birds are in full flight.

True, it's also an opportunity to collect more wood ticks than what a person thought could be humanly possible. And sometimes it's a chance to bag bird in a spring snowstorm that suddenly pops up.

Yet it's also a time to appreciate a grand iridescent bird, one that deserves those same accolades the other glitzy iridescent bird gets. So hale to the wild turkey.

And don't forget to apply on the Game and Fish Department website, (gf.nd.gov) by Feb. 12.

Storytime with Mrs. Medalen

MINOT, ND – The Minot Symphony Orchestra will host Storytime with North Dakota Teacher of the Year, Sara Medalen, at Main Street Books on Saturday February 1st at 11am. This event is free and open to the public.

Mrs. Medalen will join the symphony as the guest narrator for "The Remarkable Farkle McBride," text by John Lithgow, music by Bill Elliott, at the family concert on Feb. 8th at 3pm. Mrs. Medalen is a reading and math interventionist at Sunnyside Elementary. Her Books & Braids Program went viral and earned national recognition on many news platforms including the CBS National News. Mrs. Medalen is the 2020 North Dakota Teacher of the Year and nominee for LifeChanger of the Year. She holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Elementary Education and Deaf Education and a Master of Science Degree in Special Education from Minot State University.

"We are so excited to feature Mrs. Medalen as the family concert narrator. She is the perfect fit for this performance. Her enthusiasm, love of reading and sharing stories with others is what makes her an outstanding teacher and individual, earning nationwide recognition making Minot proud" said Ellen Fenner, executive director of the Minot Symphony Orchestra.

The Minot Symphony Orchestra's family concert, The Remarkable Farkle McBride, will take place at 3pm on February 8th in Ann Nicole Nelson Hall at MSU. Tickets can be purchased online at www.minotsymphony.com or call 701-858-4228.

NewKota targets MAFB for recruitment

NORTHERN SENTRY

When Kent Kirkhammer & Jarod Seifert founded NewKota in 2011, they had a dream of a North Dakota company that could fill the need for pit replacement and flow back services in the Bakken. Now, almost 10 years later, NewKota has eclipsed the dream of the 2 founders and is a company on the grow. With over 140 employees and a second location in Gillette, Wyoming, NewKota is constantly in need of employees to fill numerous positions.

"We hire 250 employees every year to fill positions due to attrition, and of course now we are also looking to hire dependable employees to meet the needs of NewKota and the many customers we serve", according to Kirkhammer.

Kirkhammer himself is a story of a young man who was at Minot State University, started working in the oil patch, and eventually started NewKota. "I was at Minot State playing hockey and there was always talk about the great opportunities for employment in the Bakken," continues Kirkhammer, and that talk led to working on rigs in Alberta and North Dakota. Kent got married to his wife Chelsea (Peterson), and now they have 2 daughters; Elin, Maddie and one son, Crosby.

Kirkhammer, and NewKota, are looking to Minot Air Force Base as a resource for recruiting employees. "We have found that active duty military people enjoy the structure that we provide. Most of our employees work 4 weeks on, with 2 weeks off. They also like working for a company that is locally owned. Finally, our company offers jobs that are sustainable, because not only are we providing services to wells that have recently been fracked, but when the prices go down, as we know they will, we provide maintenance services".

So, what does NewKota look for in a new employee? "Anyone who works hard and is eager to learn," continues Kirkhammer, "experience is not necessary. Most of our employees work outside. We want them to think of working for NewKota as a career."

In Kirkhammers eyes, there is still a lot of potential for NewKota to grow. "There are 10-15,000 active wells right now, but we are told there could be up to 50,000 wells, and so the Bakken, and NewKota, will be around for a long time."

For NewKota, the potential resources at Minot Air Force Base are the spouses and dependents of the active duty personnel who are stationed at MAFB, and ultimately the young men and women who are leaving the military and looking to establish a career in this region.

For more information on NewKota, and to apply online, go to the company's web site at newkota.com.

NORTH DAKOTA GAME AND FISH DEPARTMENT

Spring Turkey Season Set, Apply Online

The North Dakota Game and Fish Department is offering 6,230 wild turkey licenses for the 2020 spring hunting season, 205 more than last year.

Seven of the 22 hunting units have more spring licenses than in 2019, five have fewer and nine remain the same. Unit 21 (Hettinger and Adams counties) is again closed in 2020 due to lack of turkeys in the unit.

Spring turkey applicants can apply online at the Game and Fish Department website, gf.nd.gov. Applications can also be submitted by calling 800-406-6409.

The deadline for applying is Feb. 12.

Successful spring turkey applicants must purchase a 2020-21 hunting license, as last year's 2019-20 licenses expire March 31. In addition to the spring turkey license, hunters must have a general game and habitat license. Also, hunters ages 16 and older must possess a small game license, or combination license. These required licenses must be purchased in advance of the successful applicant receiving the turkey license.

First-time spring turkey hunters ages 15 or younger are eligible to receive one spring license valid for any open unit. To be eligible, the youth hunter must be 15 or younger on opening day of spring turkey season and have never received a spring turkey license in North Dakota.

Spring turkey licenses are available only to North Dakota residents. Per legislation, an additional four spring wild turkey licenses are made available to the Outdoor Adventure Foundation and three to the National Wild Turkey Federation.

The spring turkey season opens April 11 and continues through May 17.

OUTDOOR

OUTDOOR NOTES:

PATRICIA STOCKDILL

Fishing:

Lake Sakakawea elevation, Jan. 27: 1,838.09 feet above mean sea level (MSL); 24,400 cubic feet per second (CFS) Garrison Dam average daily releases.

Devils Lake elevation: 1,448.98 feet above mean sea level (MSL).

Stump Lake elevation: 1,448.9 MSL.

N.D. Game & Fish Dept. game wardens: Lots of activity on Devils Lake with generally OK access throughout most of the lake. Overall slow walleye and perch success, however. North-central area lakes slow overall, although Lake Metigoshe producing a few bluegill and occasional pike. Access is OK but icy after last weekend's rain. East end of Lake Sakakawea generally slow with variable ice conditions. Use caution.

Devils Lake, Ed's Bait Shop, Devils Lake: Try 30 feet and deeper for perch; 20 feet and shallower for walleye. Perch remain somewhat tough and elusive with scattered success. Try mouth of Creel Bay, Black Tiger and East bays, East Devils Lake or the casino. Limited pike reports, although some scattered success. Try rocky structure or flooded timber. Access fair overall.

Devils Lake, Woodland Resort, Devils Lake: Fair to good walleye success with better success is in the afternoon in 17 to 25 feet. Try Military Point, Creel Bay, or over on Stump Lake. Perch are more finicky but work just a couple of inches off the bottom in 25 to 40 feet. OK access OK but watch for large snowdrifts on the ice.

Lake Audubon/Lake Sakakawea, Totten Trail Bait, Coleharbor: No new reports.

Lake Darling, Karma C-Store, Ruthville: Lots of activity on Lake Darling with warmer weather but overall success is somewhat slow. Better activity might be around the Grano area. Lake Audubon producing an occasional pike but anglers are moving around a lot to find fish with somewhat slow success, as well.

Lake Darling, Upper Souris Nat'l. Wildlife Refuge, Foxholm: Warmer weather bringing more anglers out but overall success somewhat slow. However, anglers are finding scattered bass, perch, pike, and walleye success. Ice conditions are generally good but caution is still advised.

Lake Metigoshe, Four Seasons, Bottineau: Warm weather brought out lots of activity. Continued fair bluegill success with scattered - and short - evening walleye bite.

Lake Metigoshe, Lake Metigoshe State Park, Bottineau: Increasing angling activity with warm weather. Lake Metigoshe fair for small bluegill and walleye. Fair pike spearing success on Long Lake, Pelican Lake, Sandy Lake, and Lake Metigoshe.

Lake Sakakawea/Lake Audubon, Cenex Bait & Tackle, Garrison: Scattered walleye success on the east end of Lake

Sakakawea with anglers seeing nice numbers of fish but a finicky bite. Work a variety of depths throughout Douglas, Steinke, and Centennial bays. Scattered success on Lake Audubon, as well, with anglers moving around more. An increasing numbers of houses moved along the south shore.

Lake Sakakawea, Scenic 23, New Town: Lots of anglers in the Van Hook Arm but slow walleye success. Access is good getting onto the lake from the boat ramp and anglers have good mobility on the ice.

Lake Sakakawea/Missouri River, Scott's Bait & Tackle, Pick City: Missouri River tailrace continues producing walleye from boats with the ramp ice-free. Try 3-way swivels or crankbaits. Also try casting crankbaits the rocks from shore. Lake Sakakawea fair for pike spearing with most activity along Wolf Creek. Occasional walleye, as well. Lake Audubon spotty.

Lake Sakakawea/northwest N.D. lakes, Scenic Sports, Williston: Decent evening walleye bite on the west end of Lake Sakakawea with good numbers of small fish around Tobacco Garden. Try 25 feet. Missouri River has increasing water levels so use caution with overall fair success. Blacktail and Kota-Ray dams fair for perch with a few bluegills mixed in.

Lonetree WMA area lakes, Harvey: Most area lakes, including Clear, Antelope, Hinsz, Goose, and Slobber lakes, generally slow. Ice conditions generally good for driving but still remain cautious.

North-central/central N.D. lakes, Towner Hdwe. Hank, Towner: George Lake producing a few small pike. Some walleye activity in the evening on Buffalo Lodge Lake. No reports from other area lakes or the Mouse River.

Downhill skiing condition can vary): Bottineau Winter Park, Bottineau: 10- to 30-inch base with all runs groomed and in good condition. Chair and carpet lifts open. 3 Sunny Side and 4 Backside tubing runs and lift open. Terrain Park rollers and jumps open.

Frostfire Ski Area, Walhalla: 6 trails, Harebell beginner trail, and Terrain Park open Friday through Sunday.

Huff Hills Ski Area, Mandan: 20- to 24-inch machine groomed base with spring conditions. 8 runs, bunny lift, and all chairs open.

Terry Peak, Leads, S.D.: 18- to 24-inch base with all runs and lifts open.

N.D. Parks & Recreation Dept. cross-country ski trails (conditions can vary):

Fort Stevenson, Garrison: Look for icy conditions beneath light layer of new snow.

Garrison Dam Nat'l. Fish Hatchery, Riverdale (downstream Garrison Dam): Campground trails icy underneath a light layer of snow but lighted areas enable

GOAT CHEESE MASHED POTATOES

BY DENNIS THE PRESCOTT

INGREDIENTS

- 1 HEAD OF GARLIC
- 1 TSP OLIVE OIL
- 3 LBS YUKON GOLD POTATOES, PEELLED AND ROUGHLY CHOPPED
- 3/4 CUP CRUMBLLED GOAT CHEESE
- 1/4 CUP MELTED BUTTER, PLUS MORE FOR DRIZZLING
- 3/4 CUP HEAVY WHIPPING CREAM
- SEA SALT & FRESHLY CRACKED BLACK PEPPER
- 2 TBS FRESH CHIVES, FINELY DICED

When ready to cook, set the temperature to 350° and preheat, lid closed, for 10 to 15 minutes.

Using a sharp knife, slice about 1/8" off the top of the garlic head (leaving the root intact), exposing the individual garlic cloves. Drizzle the olive oil on top of the exposed garlic and season with a pinch of salt and pepper. Tightly wrap the bulb in aluminum foil and roast on the Traeger for 30 - 35 minutes, until the cloves are soft. Remove the garlic cloves and mash into a paste with a fork.

Meanwhile, bring a large stockpot of salted water to a boil over medium high heat. Add the potatoes and cook for 15 - 20 minutes, or until softened and mashable. Drain and return to the pot, stirring until dry. Remove from the heat and stir in the cream, goat cheese, lemon zest, garlic mash, and 1/4 cup of butter. Mash until smooth, and if you like it, whip that business up with a whisk. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Garnish with extra chives and a generous drizzle of melted butter. Enjoy!

*Cook times will vary depending on set and ambient temperatures.

Concert "For the Young and the Old"

BRASS BAND OF MINOT

The Brass Band of Minot presents a concert titled "For the Young and the Old" at 4:00 PM on Sunday, February 16th at Minot State University's Ann Nicole Nelson Hall.

The concert will open with a light and catchy march titled "Best Foot Forward" by English composer and master of the light music genre Ernest Tomlinson and continue with selections from "American Variations for Brass Band" by Alan Fernie, a piece written for the Smoky Mountain Brass Band that is reminiscent of expansive American vistas with a modern touch, followed by "Holy Ground," William Gordon's mellifluous arrangement of Geron Davis' popular hymn. Next is a piece that will evoke fond memories from older listeners: a sparkling arrangement of Pat Ballard's classic "Mr. Sandman," a popular hit first released in 1954. "Mr. Sandman" will be followed by "Selections from Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone," written by John Williams and arranged by Steve Sykes and the dynamic "Main Theme from Star Wars," another John Williams classic that will appeal to the young and the old and everyone in between.

The Brass Band of Minot is North Dakota's only British-style brass band and was created by a group of Minot area brass musicians in 1994. Some of the founders still play with the band today, joined by musicians of a variety of ages and backgrounds from Minot and the surrounding communities and lead by Gordon Troxel, a farmer, businessman, and retired music educator from Berthold.

What is a "British-style brass band, and what makes it special? In addition to trombones, euphoniums, baritones, B-flat tubas, and percussion, which are familiar from concert bands, British-style brass bands also include cornets, flugel horns, alto horns, and E-flat tubas (they are a little smaller and higher-pitched than standard B-flat tubas). Except for the trombones, all the band's brass instruments have a conical bore which means that the brass tubes they are made of gradually get larger from the mouthpiece to the bell, resulting in a sound that is darker, richer, and more mellow than the bright sound associated with trumpets. There are also some technical differences in how British-style brass band music is written and played that provide extra challenges to the players, but the appeal to an audience is the flexibility of that darker, richer, sound that allows the British-style brass band to play a colorful variety of music and musical styles even though the band consists of only two types of instruments: brass and percussion.

"For the Young and the Old" will be the third of this season's concerts for the Brass Band of Minot. Their season will round off with another concert on March 29. Both performances will be at 4:00 PM at Ann Nicole Nelson Hall. Brass Band of Minot concerts are free and open to the public though cash and check donations are very welcome.

The Brass Band of Minot is supported in part by a grant from the North Dakota Council on the Arts, which receives funding from the state legislature and the National Endowment for the Arts.

WINTER DRIVING SAFETY COURSE

Winter driving can be hazardous and scary to some, especially those who have never encountered the white fluffy stuff. With that being said, it's a great time for new members of Team Minot to become educated on what to expect in the upcoming months and for all others to brush up on those winter driving skills. The Safety Office has started up the Winter Driving Safety Course for the season. This course covers some of the following topics: vehicle preparation, emergency kits, road/travel conditions, driving tips, etc. The course will be held on the first Wednesday of each month starting at 0900 from now until April 2020 in room 212 of the Base Education Office. The course typically lasts an hour and is open to all members of MAFB.

UPCOMING COURSE DATES

February 5 • March 4 • April 1
If you have any questions please do not hesitate to reach out to the Safety Office at 723-4262

AIRPORT OPERATIONS TECHNICIAN I

The Minot International Airport with the City of Minot, North Dakota is accepting applications for the position of AIRPORT OPERATIONS TECHNICIAN I.

Full salary range is $3,291 – $4,886 per month with a starting hourly rate of $18.99.

This is semi-skilled and some skilled work in monitoring airport operations, maintaining airport facilities and grounds, runways, taxiways, aircraft parking ramps and associated equipment. Must be available to work a flexible shift schedule that covers 7 days a week, 24 hours a day. Work is performed under the general supervision of the Airport Operations Foreman.

Graduation from high school and experience in general operations and maintenance work, construction, medium or heavy equipment operation, or any equivalent combination of training and experience. Preferred education holding a Bachelor's in Airport or Aviation Management. Preferred experience having worked at a commercial service or military airport. Possession of a valid North Dakota Class B driver license with air brake endorsement, or the ability to obtain one, within nine months of employment. Pass pre-employment fingerprint-based background check and maintain federally mandated security clearance required to work at an airport.

Interviews for this position will take place on February 19, 2020 at the Minot International Airport.

Applications are available on the City website at www.minotnd.org or from the Human Resource Office, located on the second floor of City Hall (515 2nd Ave SW).

Deadline for applications is Friday, February 14, 2020 at 4:00 PM.

JANUARY 2020

MEMORABLE MOMENTS

@M.M.S.

Our 8th graders transitioned from a day full of fun at their Central Campus tours and faced the 7th graders on our home court! The cheerleaders also had a chance to shine and cheer on our teams! Go Falcons!!

Memorial Middle School

Our boys basketball season is off to the races! Our students are lucky to have such supportive parents and coaches representing our Falcons!

These amazing individuals represented Memorial with integrity at the 6th grade Sources of Strength event, January 23!

The finals of the geography bee were held during homeroom, January 23, and our lone 6th grade finalist, Caroline Maytan took home the gold! A huge congrats to all those involved in the contest and an even bigger thank you to Mrs. Strand for leading this event!
