January is Cervical Health Awareness Month
 Getting regular screenings for cervical cancer can help find abnormal (changed) cervical cells before they turn into cervical cancer. There are 2 kinds of screening tests that can find abnormal cervical cells:
 Pap tests, also called Pap smears and HPV (human papillomavirus) tests. Most deaths from cervical cancer can be prevented if women get regular cervical screenings and follow-up care. Schedule your Cervical Cancer Screening today by contacting your local healthcare provider!
