McLean County Fair Postponed Until 2021

It is with deep regret that the decision was made to postpone the 2020 McLean County Fair until 2021. The Fair Board did not make the decision lightly, as our volunteers are some of the most passionate fair supporters you will find. It was going to be difficult for the small board of 11 volunteers to manage all aspects of a full-fledged fair and meet all of the safety requirements needed due to COVID-19 guidelines, to make it the safest and best fair you've all come to know and love.

With that said, we are extremely excited to continue on with the 64th year of recognizing the talents of our McLean County youth in 4H and FFA, with a limited "Achievement Days" this July 24th - 26th. Those students will be able to present their static exhibits and livestock for judging, along with horsemanship judging, and a Premium Sale for their livestock.

The Board appreciates your understanding and continued support. We look forward to seeing you at the 65th McLean County Fair, June 18 - 20, 2021.

DAKOTA DATEBOOK

Seed man

BY CATHY A. LANGEMO, WRITEPLUS INC.

Oscar H. Will, nationally known seed man Bismarck seed house.

He purchased the greenhouse from Fuller on this date in 1884 and also started a nursery and seed business. It was first called Pioneer Seed House in 1897 and then Oscar H. Will & Company.

Will built the business into multiple buildings, greenhouses, nurseries and farms, with a regular work force of 25 employees and seasonal help. His catalog circulation increased from 1,000 in 1881 to 120,000 in 1917. Many families grew up with Will Seed Company seed catalogs, with their colorful covers of fruits and vegetables.

Will was a very productive plant breeder, seeing the value of the native cultivars of corn from the Upper Missouri Valley and selecting and breeding them. He was responsible for creating hardy varieties of corn, beans, squash and sunflowers available to homesteaders.

Corn was one vegetable that Will worked with extensively because it adapted readily to extreme climates and varied soils. The Great Northern bean, developed by Will, came from Son of a Star, a Hidatsa Indian who gave him a bag of beans in 1896. He spent three years propagating them and then gave them the name, Great Northern, which is still one of the world's most popular bean varieties.

The "Our First Farmers" exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Interpretive Center in Washburn includes a display about Oscar H. Will and his Bismarck seed company. The exhibit shows the connection between the first farmers of the plains — the Mandan, Hidatsas and Arikaras — and Will's seed company.

Will was president of the State Board of Agriculture at one time and, in 1923, was inducted into the North Dakota Agricultural College Hall of Fame. He died on August 26, 1917, and his son, George Francis, took over the company.

"Dakota Datebook" is a radio series from Prairie Public in partnership with the State Historical Society of North Dakota and with funding from the North Dakota Humanities Council.)

Top story

BY DEAN MEYER

Hello, I have a friend. Well, hopefully more than one. But I have one friend who stops to visit every couple weeks. Now, I don't mind visiting, but this guy always has one of those stories that top anything I can say or do. In fact, if the news happens to be on, he can top any news story that he happens to hear.

Well, the other day he stopped by for a cup of coffee and the news was on about the human trafficking problem in North Dakota. A serious problem. But as soon as the news ended, he began telling me his tale of woe.

It seems he has been shopping at the local WalMart store. He said the prices are reasonable and it is close to his home.

Then he told me of the strange happenings in the parking lot.

It seems there are a couple of girls working the lot. They wait for a lone man to come out to his vehicle and they approach him. Now they are attractive young ladies and dressed for a hot summer day. Not the coveralls and winter clothes we Dakotans are accustomed to.

They explain that they would like a ride down to the new McDonalds (the one with the double line). Having heard there was work there, they would like to apply.

Now here is where it gets interesting. As he drives out of the lot, one of the girls slide over to him and started nibbling on his ear.

Then she slips her hand in his shirt and starts rubbing his chest. Now, my friend tells me, while you are distracted, the other girls steals your wallet!

When I said I really doubted that this would happen, he exclaimed loudly that it had. He said it happened two weeks ago on Wednesday and Thursday. It happened twice on Saturday, and again yesterday morning. He was hoping it would happen twice today.

He explained that the good part was he had found you could buy billfolds for $2.99 at Walmart, and for $.99 at the Dollar store!

I don't know. I wouldn't ever call a man a liar, but it seemed a little far fetched.

A little short this week. Borrowed computer from a neighbor and in a hurry!

Later- Dean
