FACES OF COAL™

Thank you, Mercer County Commission, for your steadfast belief in and support of Coal Country. Your courage to lead and do the right thing, no matter how painful or uncomfortable it might appear, is appreciated.

Implementing and maintaining the wind moratorium in Mercer County is the "right thing" to allow adequate resources and time required to assess the economic and financial impacts to the people, families, and communities of Coal Country during these challenging times. Your actions have ensured a full understanding of the impact of what the next decision could do to this entire county. Considering that the wind isn't going anywhere, it is evident by the wind advocates own admission that they can wait up to (4) years after the expiration (using Safe Harbor provisions) of the PTC. This means they have until Dec. 31, 2024 to develop this project... clearly giving the county time to evaluate its decision.

In North Dakota, the lignite industry generates a $5.4 billion economic impact annually and is responsible for over 13,000 direct and indirect jobs. Over half of this activity is directly attributable to Mercer County's role in North Dakota's 5th largest industry.
