Dakota Recreation Report

BY BY PATRICIA STOCKDILL

Lake Sakakawea and around the New Town area north of 4 Bears Bridge. Try jigs or slow death hooks. No Missouri River reports.

*Lakes Audubon & Sakakawea, Cenex Bait & Tackle, Lakes Audubon & Sakakawea: East end of Lake Sakakawea improving for walleye with fair success around Douglas Bay. Try jigs and minnows or nightcrawlers, locating warmer water. Also try casting jigs from shore. Lake Audubon remains fair for walleye.

*Lakes Audubon & Sakakawea, Hwy. 83 Lawn & Leisure, Lakes Audubon & Sakakawea: Lake Audubon remains good for walleye and smallmouth bass. Try shallow water pitching jigs and minnows or trolling with spinner blades for walleye and hair jigs for bass in warm, shallow water. Lake Sakakawea walleye bite slowly starting to improve. Best bite remains around Douglas or Steinke bays pitching jigs in shallow water, as well.

*Lake Sakakawea, Dakota Waters Resort, Beulah: Try jigs and minnows in the back of Douglas Bay on the north shore or Beaver Bay along the south side in 3 to 6 feet, warm water for walleye.

*Lake Sakakawea, Indian Hills Resort, Garrison: Water temperatures remain cool but look for improving walleye activity with warming water.

*Lake Sakakawea, New Town: Good walleye activity in the river portion north of New Town. Try a variety of presentations. The Van Hook Arm remains somewhat slow.

*Missouri River, Enerbase of Washburn: Lake Audubon remains fair to good for walleye and smallmouth bass. Better walleye activity on Lake Sakakawea is around the New Town area yet. More anglers on the Missouri River but limited reports.

*Missouri River System, Scott's Bait & Tackle, Pick City: Try jigging shallow along the north shore on the east end of Lake Sakakawea with best success around Steinke or Douglas bays or casting jigs or crankbaits in shallow water pulling crankbaits in 12 to 15 feet. Occasional walleye success at best, though, but that should improve as water temperatures start to warm. Missouri River remains slow, including wing walls, shore, and boats. A few catfish, pike, and walleye from shore along the spillway channel.

*McLean Co. area lakes, Cenex of Wilton: Lots of activity throughout area lakes and on the Missouri River. Best success with nightcrawlers or minnows.

Additional North Dakota river gauges and streamflow:

*Heart River, Mandan: River stage, 1.15 feet.

*Knife River, Hazen: River stage, 2.19 feet; streamflow, 147 CFS.

*Little Missouri River, Long X Bridge: River stage, 2.32 feet; streamflow, 1,690 CFS.

*Missouri River, Williston: River stage, 15.68 feet.

Numbers to know:

*N.D. Game and Fish Dept., main Bismarck office: (701) 328-6300, website: (<http://gf.nd.gov>).

*N.D. Game and Fish Dept., Riverdale office: (701) 654-7475.

*Report All Poachers: (800) 472-2121 or (701) 328-9921.

*Friends of Lake Sakakawea, the region's only organization working for quality lake access, weed control and effective partnerships, (www.lakesakakawea.com).

Outdoor Notes:

*June 4 & 5: Free Fishing Weekend.

*June 8: Deer gun and muzzleloader applications due.

*June 10 - 12: Washburn Riverboat Days & All-School Reunion. Activities begin with 11:30 a.m. Brat Feed and Root Beer Floats, Main Street, June 10, concluding with 10:30 a.m. All-Faith Church Service, Fahlgren Park, and June 12, with a wide array of activities in between.

Tournaments:

*June 4: Lake Sakakawea, Beulah Bay.

*June 10 & 11: Lake Sakakawea, Dakota Waters Resort; Lake Sakakawea, Van Hook Arm.

*June 11: Nelson Lake.

Fishing:

Lake Sakakawea elevation, May 30: 1,829.59 feet above mean sea level; 18,900 cubic feet per second (CFS) Garrison Dam average daily releases.

Missouri River gauge height, Stanton: River stage, 7.58 feet.

Missouri River gauge height, Washburn: River stage, 8.88 feet.

*N.D. Game & Fish Dept. game wardens: Fair to good walleye and smallmouth bass activity continues on Lake Audubon. Work shallow water. Improving walleye success on the upper end of

Get Set for Grilling Season with 6 Questions

PRAIRIE FARE

By Julie Garden-Robinson, food and nutrition specialist NDSU Extension

At this time of year, enjoying warmer outdoor temperatures sometimes whets my appetite.

The aroma of grilling meat often wafts in my direction from a neighbor's home as I check on the progress of my plants.

If you enjoy grilling food, some food safety considerations come into play as we move cooking and serving from indoors to outdoors. Foodborne illness cases tend to increase during summer months.

Try these six grilling questions based on U.S. Department of Agriculture recommendations. The answers are at the end of the article.

1. Which of the following can be grilled successfully? Select all that apply.

- A. Apple slices
- B. Watermelon wedges
- C. Green peppers
- D. Green beans
- E. Peach halves

2. Grilling at home can lead to fires unless you take some precautions. List at least three ways to prevent fires when using any type of grill.

3. To what temperature should you cook ground turkey burgers?

- A. 145 F
- B. 155 F
- C. 165 F
- D. 175 F
- E. 185 F

4. According to the USDA, what temperature is considered a "medium rare" steak?

- A. 115 F
- B. 125 F
- C. 135 F
- D. 145 F
- E. 155 F

5. To what temperature should burgers made from ground beef be cooked?

- A. 130 F
- B. 140 F
- C. 150 F
- D. 160 F
- E. 170 F

6. Using accurate tools is important, and food thermometers are an important food safety tool. When calibrating a thermometer for accuracy, fill a container with crushed ice and cold water to make an icy slush. What temperature should the thermometer gauge read? (Adjust the thermometer if possible following the manufacturer's directions.)

- A. 0 F
- B. 5 F
- C. 32 F
- D. 37 F
- E. 40 F

The answers:

Any of those vegetables and fruits and many others can be grilled successfully. Search online for NDSU Extension and "Try Adding Some Fruits and Vegetables to Your Grilling Menu."

Be sure to pick a safe place to use your grill. It should be on a well-ventilated, flat, level surface away from overhangs, railings and shrubs. Keep a bucket of water and a fire extinguisher close at hand. If you use charcoal, allow the coals to cool completely for at least 48 hours in a noncombustible container. Do not put coals in a plastic trash can, for example.

Cook poultry, including whole or ground turkey or chicken, to a minimum internal temperature of 165 F.

Steaks, roasts and steaks from beef, pork, veal and lamb should reach 145 F to be "medium rare" or 160 F to be "medium." These cuts of meat can be cooked to lower temperatures than ground meat.

The USDA recommends that ground beef reaches an internal temperature of 160 F.

The calibration temperature is 32 F based on the freezing point of water.

Add some color and flavor to your grilling menu with fruits, vegetables and a variety of protein sources. Remember these tips.

Rinse fruits and vegetables and prepare for grilling. Remove the stems, seeds and cores from fruits and vegetables before grilling.

When preparing whole fruits or vegetables, cut them into slices unless otherwise specified.

Prepare bell peppers by cutting off the top and bottom of the pepper. Remove the core and then cut the pepper in half from top to bottom. This way, you end up with two flat rectangles that are grilled skin side down.

When using skewers, choose vegetables and fruits of like thickness and water content. Cut them the same size to ensure even cooking.

Use separate plates and utensils for raw meats and fruits or vegetables to prevent cross-contamination.

Take your time and be patient. You may think you are burning something and remove it before it is done. Follow recipes and remember, grilling can be trial and error.

Here's a springtime favorite to enjoy as a delicious side dish.

Roasted or Grilled Asparagus

1pound asparagus, fresh
1 cup balsamic vinegar
1 tablespoon olive oil

Still on the Lookout for Emerald Ash Borer

DAKOTA GARDENER

BY JOE ZELEZNIK
FORESTER, NDSU EXTENSION

Every year, just before Memorial Day, I work with colleagues at the North Dakota Forest Service (NDFS) and North Dakota Department of Agriculture (NDDA) to do an informational campaign during Emerald Ash Borer Awareness Week.

Emerald ash borer (EAB) is an insect from Asia that attacks and kills ash trees, such as our native green ash and black ash.

We don't exactly "celebrate" the week, but instead we use it as an opportunity to remind people about the importance of tree species diversity and the role of firewood in the spread of this harmful insect.

As a scientist, though, I'd like to start with some data:

35 – The number of states in which EAB has been found. Fortunately, North Dakota still isn't one of them but the insect has been found in the Sioux Falls area of South Dakota, Sauk Centre, Minnesota, and even in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

5 miles per year – The average spread of EAB, just by flying

55+ mph – The rate of spread of EAB when moving within infested firewood

55 – Average number of eggs laid by a female EAB

150 – Maximum number of eggs laid by a female EAB

30% – Proportion of North Dakota conservation plantings consisting of green ash

60% – Proportion of North Dakota native forests consisting of green ash

65%+ – Amount of green ash in many communities in North Dakota

230 – Estimated number of

EAB traps to be distributed this summer by the NDDA

0 – Number of EAB found in North Dakota so far

Every year, my colleagues and I inspect dozens of ash trees around the state to see if they're infested with EAB. So far, we've found no EAB, and we're hoping the same holds true for 2022. But the insect gets closer every year, and that's worrisome, given the large percentage of ash trees in our forests.

Fortunately, we have several things we can do to minimize the risk of EAB. First, when using firewood, "buy it where you burn it." When you go camping, get your firewood at your destination; don't bring it with you. Moving infested firewood is one of the main methods of EAB spread. Most campgrounds have firewood for sale on-site or they list nearby vendors.

Second, we can treat our forests like the long-term investment that they are. As my financial advisor likes to say: Diversify! Diversify! Diversify! Check out the North Dakota Tree Selector at <https://www.ag.ndsu.edu/tree-selector>, for a listing of tree and shrub species that are broadly adapted across North Dakota.

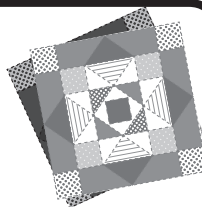

Finally, if you think your ash trees might be infested with EAB, don't hesitate to contact your county NDSU Extension agent, the NDFS or the NDDA to arrange for a site visit. If this destructive insect is in North Dakota, we want to find it sooner rather than later.

I'm grateful that EAB hasn't been found here yet. Every year that we delay gives us more time to plant new and different tree species. What will you plant this year?

PROPERTY TAXES & RIGHTS

We must protect the future of our family farming and ranching operations by promoting private ownership through lower property taxes. We must also protect property rights from both federal and state intrusion.

ENERGY

We must confront the assault on the fossil fuel industry by reducing burdensome federal regulations and reducing subsidies for the competition. I will fight the detrimental effects of the green energy agenda which is destroying our fossil fuel energy industry.

SMALL BUSINESS

We need to streamline regulations and reduce taxes to revitalize existing industry and promote new business growth. I will work to stimulate job growth and reduce government dependency by fostering competitive employment opportunities.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

We must safeguard personal medical autonomy and protect the rights of parents to direct the education of their children as the primary stakeholders in their children's lives.
